

The Shofar

Letter from Rabbi Alpert

In our efforts to rebuild our synagogue, January 22 may well stand out as one of the most important days. On it, a group of congregants got together and came up with a leadership plan that will allow us to grow and prosper. What happened in our sanctuary on that day was really quite beautiful. The people who showed up represented all segments of our congregational family – from parents of children in our Hebrew school to folks whose parents and grandparents have been fixtures within our community. What they all have in common is a love for this place and a desire to make it stronger and more vibrant for generations to come. I was touched by the dedication and caring of everyone in the room. Our new president will be Dick Caplan – a long time synagogue member whose roots in the Wallingford and Beth Israel communities go way back. In fact, this is Dick's second go round as synagogue president, having served in that position some years back. For those of you who don't know him, Dick is a caring, funny, literate and generous soul. For the past several years he has been doing a wonderful job running our golf tournament – an effort into which he has poured a whole lot of labor and a strong social conscience. He says he intends to work to make service to the shul fun – and I know he will succeed.

Alida Cella will move from president to Education Director and I couldn't be more excited. My personal debt to Alida for hiring me more than ten years ago is enormous – as is the debt we all owe her for the many years she carried this place on her own, overburdened shoulders. Now she will concentrate on education where she will be able to use her enormous talent to develop this part of our community. I want to let you in on a little secret: our Hebrew school is a gem. I actually think we do a better job not only teaching our kids but making them feel at home in a synagogue than congregations many times our size. Alida will have the chance to turn this well-kept secret into a source of strength for our community. David Stein will transform the long-range planning committee he has chaired into a publicity committee to support and build awareness for our programming throughout the community. There is so much that we already do – and so much more that we can do – to respond to the needs of unaffiliated Jews, interfaith families and spiritual seekers out in our community. David is smart, thoughtful and dedicated to the work we do here. I can think of no one better to spread the message that we are here and we are ready to serve our community. Sue Burt and Phyllis Gordon will reform our Religious Activities Committee. Under their leadership, that new committee will focus not merely on holiday logistics, but how to expand our program offerings and make them more meaningful to more people in our community. One of the tasks we are ready to start with is exploring whether it is time to move to a new prayer book. We will examine the many prayer book options out there, but also consider writing our own – a big but potentially rewarding project.

Thank you also to Stephanie Magee who is stepping up to be our new Treasurer, and to David Cella who will take over managing our building. Thank you to Lisa MacDougald who is taking on the challenge of updating and managing our membership and yartzeit data. And to all of our board leadership that is continuing on – Shirley Glasner, Tammy Kahn, Barbara Gross, Bob Gross, Lesley LeClair, Henni Stoltzman, and Marv Garber – thank you for providing the steady foundation on which we can build.

I am very excited about our new leadership team. It was truly moved to see so many people step up and take on the challenge of leadership out of a love for this community and a belief that we can grow and be a vital force for good in our community. When one of them calls upon you for help, please follow their example and say yes.

Leave a Legacy to Beth Israel Wallingford

Beth Israel has established an endowment fund to provide for the future of the Beth Israel Congregation. This fund has been established with the Jewish Foundation of Greater New Haven. With the foundation being caretaker for the fund, you can be assured that the fund will remain in perpetuity and will be managed with the greatest of integrity. Please consider leaving a legacy to Beth Israel Wallingford Endowment Fund.

With a developing fund, our synagogue will be able to expand our programming and provide for a full-time Rabbi. Of great importance is the funding needed to educate our children to be able to carry on our great traditions of Judaism.

In addition, you may want to consider establishing an inheritance in your will or investing in a charitable annuity that will shield some of your capital gains from taxes while providing a retirement income. Consider making Beth Israel Wallingford a beneficiary of a portion of your insurance program or stock portfolio.

The Jewish Foundation of Greater New Haven will be glad to provide assistance with out charge to make changes in your legacy-giving.

Please call Alida Cella at alidacella@hotmail.com to learn more.

Leading Service

Since our Rabbi is part-time, we have a need for volunteers to lead some Friday night services. We do have several members who step in on a regular basis, but we are looking for others. Taking on such a vital role as leading a service is a wonderful way to be a part of the congregation. If you can read Hebrew, and you even vaguely remember your Bar/Bat Mitzvah training, you probably can lead a service. If you'd like, you can receive assistance ahead of time as well as during the service. You could also opt to co-lead with another person, and that would be great too.

Minyan

If you ever have a minyan request, please let us know ahead of time and we will send out an email to the congregation. When you get such an email, please respond! It is a mitzvah to be counted in that minyan.

Blood Drive

Beth Israel Synagogue will be sponsoring a blood drive on April 19, 2017, at Zandri Stillwood Inn. If you are interested in donating food items for blood donors, please contact Shirley Glasner, shirelyglasner@yahoo.com or Barbara Gross, bshoag@att.net. setting up of everything.

Yahrzeit Plaques

If you would like to purchase a Yahrzeit Plaque, the following are costs if purchased at the same time: $300 for one; $550 for two; $1,000 for four.

A Quick Guide to the Passover Seder

1. Kaddish: Sanctification

This is a blessing over wine in honor of the holiday. The wine is drunk, and a second cup is poured.

2. Urechatz: Washing

A washing of the hands without a blessing, in preparation for eating the Karpas.

3. Karpas: Vegetable

A vegetable (usually parsley) is dipped in salt water and eaten. The vegetable symbolizes the lowly origins of the Jewish people; the salt water symbolizes the tears shed as a result of our slavery. Parsley is a good vegetable to use for this purpose, because when you shake off the salt water, it looks like tears.

4. Yachatz: Breaking

One of the three matzahs on the table is broken. Part is returned to the pile, the other part is set aside for the afikoman (see #12).

5. Maggid: The Story

A retelling of the story of the Exodus from Egypt and the first Passover. This begins with the youngest person asking The Four Questions, a set of questions about the proceedings designed to encourage participation in the seder. The Four Questions are also known as Mah Nishtanah (Why is it different?), which are the first words of the Four Questions.

At the end of the maggid, a blessing is recited over the second cup of wine and it is drunk.

6. Rachtzah: Washing

A second washing of the hands, this time with a blessing, in preparation for eating the matzah.

7. Motzi: Blessing over Grain Products

The ha-motzi blessing, a generic blessing for bread or grain products used as a meal, is recited over the matzah.

8. Matzah: Blessing over Matzah

A blessing specific to matzah is recited, and a bit of matzah is eaten.

9. Maror: Bitter Herbs

A blessing is recited over a bitter vegetable (usually raw horseradish; sometimes romaine lettuce), and it is eaten. This symbolizes the bitterness of slavery. The maror is eaten with charoses, a mixture of apples, nuts, cinnamon and wine, which symbolizes the mortar used by the Jews in building during their slavery.

10. Korech: The Sandwich

Rabbi Hillel was of the opinion that the maror should be eaten together with matzah and the paschal offering in a sandwich. In his honor, we eat some maror on a piece of matzah, with some charoses.

11. Shulchan Orech: Dinner

A festive meal is eaten. There is no particular requirement regarding what to eat at this meal (except, of course, that hametz cannot be eaten).

12. Tzafun: The Afikoman

The piece of matzah set aside earlier is eaten as "dessert," the last food of the meal. Different families have different traditions relating to the afikoman. Some have the children hide it, while the parents have to either find it or ransom it back. Others have the parents hide it. The idea is to keep the children awake and attentive throughout the pre-meal proceedings, waiting for this part.

13. Barech: Grace after Meals

The third cup of wine is poured, and grace after meals is recited. This is similar to the grace that would be said on any Sabbath. At the end, a blessing is said over the third cup and it is drunk. The fourth cup is poured, including a cup set aside for the prophet Elijah, who is supposed to herald the Messiah, and is supposed to come on Passover to do this. The door is opened for a while at this point.

14. Hallel: Praises

Several psalms are recited. A blessing is recited over the last cup of wine and it is drunk.

15. Nirtzah: Closing

A simple statement that the seder has been completed, with a wish that next year, we may celebrate Passover in Jerusalem.

Helping Hands

Beth Israel Synagogue has partnered with Helping Hands Community Thrift Store & Furniture Bank, LLC in a unique fundraiser.

Helping Hands accepts donations of furniture, household items, clothing, etc. All items donated by Beth Israel supporters will be designated to our organization, and we will receive 18% of the sale price of these items when sold in their Thrift Store and Furniture Bank. This is an

Minor Jewish Holidays in April & May 2017

Yom HaShoah
(April 23, 2017)

Initiated in 1950 to commemorate the six million Jews who died in the Holocaust.

Yom HaZikaron
(April 30, 2017)

Day of Remembrance commemorating those who died during Israel's Wars of Liberation and defense. Always the day before Yom Ha'Atzmaut.

Yom Ha'atzmaut
(May 2, 2017)

Initiated in 1948 as Israel's Independence Day.

Lag B'Omer
(May 13, 2017)

According to tradition, on this day, a rampant plague during the Bar Kochba Revolt ceased. The day is also the "Yahrzeit," of Rabbi Shimon bar Yochai, author of the "Zohar," the basic book of Jewish Mysticism. In Israel, and throughout the Diaspora, the day is also celebrated with picnics, ballgames, and mock bow-and-arrow play-fighting.

Yom Yerushalayim
(May 23, 2017)

Jerusalem Unification Day commemorates retaking the Old City of Jerusalem from the Jordanians during the Six Day War in 1967.
